THE CONFIDENT PRESENTER

What's it about?

It's probably an understatement to say that a lot of people get nervous about presenting.

Yet armed with a few key tips about how to structure and prepare your presentation and what to do on the day, presenting can be fulfilling and fun, both face to face and virtually.

The Confident Presenter course covers everything you need to know to structure and deliver presentations successfully and effectively.

In particular, we will look at how to prepare for a presentation and manage the nerves we all feel to help you enjoy the experience.

Over two, half day sessions, the first session looks at the planning, preparation and structure required for every successful presentation. Then in the second session, everyone will get the opportunity to present to the group whilst dealing with and overcoming those nerves!

> "Alan's course was fantastic! It equipped me with the skills and knowledge to... structure and create a compelling presentation and deliver it with confidence."
> Tabitha Osbourne-Fox, owner, FoxSea Art, North Devon

Who's it for?

Anyone needing to make compelling presentations to Clients or colleagues. The course works for all levels of experience, especially if you're relatively new to, or nervous about, presenting.

Learning outcomes – what's in it for me?

By the end of the session you will be better able to:

- Present persuasively and with confidence
- Structure a presentation to tell your story effectively and impactfully
- Identify the key factors that influence its success
- Engage your audience
- Overcome presentation nerves
- Deal with questions from your audience
- Reveal your presentation most effectively

THE CONFIDENT PRESENTER

How the training will work

Every delegate comes to the training with some form of presentation that you have already delivered, or plan to deliver in the near future.

It should ideally be between 5 and 6 minutes long, certainly no more than 7 minutes, so you might need to focus on one particular element if your presentation is longer.

It doesn't matter what the presentation is about, but it will be hugely beneficial to relate it to your work in some way.

It doesn't matter about your chosen format either. Most delegates tend to deliver using PowerPoint slides, but I will have flip chart paper and pens available. If you prefer to use anything else, that's fine too.

In Session 1, we will work through all the core aspects of presenting - planning, structure, delivery, and all the key factors that influence any presentation's success.

The week between the two sessions is your opportunity to amend your presentation as you choose to and apply what you learn from Session 1. I'll be available to answer any questions you may have between the sessions.

Then, because the best way to overcome the fear of doing something is to do it, in Session 2, everyone gets to deliver their presentation to the group.

It's the ideal opportunity to practice in a safe environment, with a group who will all be willing you to be brilliant, which you will be.

If you have any questions on any of this, please don't hesitate to get in touch. All my details are at the bottom of the page.

Please note that any bookings placed either verbally or in writing will require payment within 7 days of the invoice being sent. Any cancellation received more than 4 weeks before the first day of the course will receive a 50% refund. Any cancellation more than 2 weeks before the first day of the course will receive a 25% refund. Any cancellation 2 weeks or less before first day of the course will not receive a refund.
